INTRODUCTION

Integrated Development Planning is a process through which municipalities prepare a strategic development plan, for a five-year period. The Integrated Development Plan (IDP) is a product of the integrated development planning process. The IDP is a principal strategic planning instrument which guides and informs all planning, budgeting, management and decision-making in a municipality. In terms of Section 28 of the Municipal Systems Act (No 32 of 2000), municipalities are required to prepare a process that will guide the planning, drafting, adoption and review of the Integrated Development Planning.

All municipalities have to undertake an integrated development planning process to produce integrated development plans (IDPs) as required in terms of the Section 32 of the Municipal Systems Act (No 32 of 2000). The IDP is a legislative requirement and it has a legal status, and it supercedes all other plans that guide development at local government level.

The 2023/24 IDP Review will serve as a second cycle of the review process of the 2022/23 IDP as required in terms of Section 34 of the Municipal Systems Act (No 32 of 2000).

The IDP also provides specific benefits for different target groups, namely:

Stakeholder	Benefits
Municipality	Enables the municipality to: Obtain access to development resources and outside investment; Provide clear and accountable leadership and development direction; Develop a co-operative relationship with its stakeholders and communities; Monitor the performance of the municipality
Councillors	Provides Councillors with a mechanism of communicating with their constituencies; Enables Councillors to represent their constituencies effectively by making informed decisions; and Enables Councillors to measure their own performance
Municipal Officials	Provides officials with a mechanism to communicate with the Councillors;

	Enables the officials to contribute to the municipality's vision; and Enables officials to be part of the decision-making process
Communities and other stakeholders	Gives them an opportunity to inform council what their development needs are;
	Gives them an opportunity to determine the municipality's development direction;
	Provides a mechanism through which to communicate with their Councillors and the governing body; and Provides a mechanism through which they can measure the performance of the councillors and the municipality as a whole.
National and Provincial Sector Departments	A significant amount of financial resources for the implementation of projects lie with sector departments. The availability of the IDP provides guidance to the departments as to where their services are required and hence where to allocate their resources.
Private Sector	The IDP serves as a guide to the private sector in making decisions with regard to areas and sectors to invest in.

In the absence of an IDP, a municipality would act in an ad hoc, uninformed and uncoordinated manner which would lead to duplication and wastage of limited resources. Furthermore, the lack of a municipal tool to guide development would result in other spheres of government imposing their developmental programmes, which might not be a priority for the municipality.

1.1 PROCESS PLAN

The Process Plan sets out the approach and the activities to be undertaken in reviewing the IDP, and to ensure the buy-in from all key stakeholders. The Process Plan forms an important part of the IDP process as elaborated in terms of Section 28 of the Municipal Systems Act (No 32 of 2000) which is as follows:

- a) Each municipal council, within a prescribed period after the start of its elected term, must adopt a process setting out in writing to guide the planning, drafting, adoption and review of its integrated development plan.

- b) The municipality must through appropriate mechanisms, processes and procedures established in terms of Chapter 4, consult the local community before adopting the process.
- c) A municipality must give notice to the local community of particulars of the process it intends to follow.

A municipal council—

- (a) must review its integrated development plan—
 - (i) annually in accordance with an assessment of its performance measurements in terms of section 4 (i); and
 - (ii) to the extent that changing circumstances so demand; and
- (b) may amend its integrated development plan in accordance with a prescribed process.

1.2 KEY ELEMENTS OF THE PROCESS PLAN

In order to ensure that the requirements of the IDP Review are met, and that proper co-ordination is regulated between and within the different spheres of government (local and provincial, vertical and horizontal), there is a need for the preparation of a process plan. The process plan serves as a good base for the municipality in addressing the following issues:

- Comments from the MEC for Co-operative Governance and Traditional Affairs need to be considered as part of the IDP preparation process;
- Consider new Council priorities;
- Since the completion of the 2022/23 IDP, new information has emerged and priorities have been adjusted;
- Ensuring alignment with the newly introduced One plan One Budget initiative for faster and coordinated service delivery

- Championing the National Strategic Plan through mainstreaming of Gender Based Violence and Femicide into IDPs
- The municipality is currently preparing various Sector plans. As such, the impact that these sector plans will have on the district as a whole need to be taken into account when undertaking the IDP Review;
- Implementation and alignment to the New policies;
- Ensuring the involvement of Councillors and their Constituent Communities;
- Ensuring alignment with the Local Municipalities and Sector Departments particularly with regards to programmes, projects and sector plans;
- Interaction with funding and implementing agents;
- Appropriate mechanisms, processes and procedures of consultation and participation for local communities, sector departments, stakeholders and also feedback mechanism to ensure responsiveness to communities; and
- Addressing and alignment of issues for Operation Sukuma Sakhe / Back to Basics campaign which serves to reach out to more poverty stricken communities, with the intention of making maximum impact on those communities in the shortest possible way, and also to ensure that communities including the private and the public sector join forces to fight against poverty.

3. IDP PREPARATION (IN - HOUSE)

The office dealing with the review, implementation and management of the IDP is falling under the Planning and Economic Development Department, and it has authority to obtain, analyse, align and integrate data from internal and external stakeholders. It must be noted that the process of reviewing the 2023/24 IDP will be undertaken internally being co-ordinated by the IDP / PMS Section in the Planning and Economic Development Department.

4. EXTERNAL ROLE PLAYERS

The IDP should guide where private and sector departments allocate their resources at local government level. At the same time, the municipality should take into consideration the sector departments' policies and programmes when reviewing the IDP. Private and sector departments have to participate in the integrated development planning process to ensure that there is alignment between its programmes and that of municipalities. The external role players will include, namely but not limited to National and Provincial Sector Departments, Private Sector, NGO's, CBO's, Community, Traditional Authorities who all provide valuable inputs and projects to be undertaken during the financial year etc.

5. MECHANISMS FOR PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

Since the IDP involves participation of a number of stakeholders, it is crucial for the municipality to adopt an appropriate approach and also put in place appropriate structures to ensure effective participation. It is in line with the developmental mandate of the municipality to promote effective public participation by:

- creating conditions for public participation, which are in line with the provisions of Chapter 4 of the Municipal Systems Act (No 32 of 2000); and
- encouraging public participation, which should be done in particular with regard to disadvantaged or marginalised groups and gender equity in accordance with the conditions and capacities in a municipality

The municipality has a number of existing structures advocating public participation which are as follows:

The IDP_LED Technical Committee (IDP Representative Forum) is a broad based meeting where all the key role players meet to discuss developmental programmes and projects of the district, and it also serves for alignment and integration of the IDP's. The representatives that attend these meetings include the IDP, LED, and Planning Personnel of the district and four local municipalities, the sector departments, the Service Providers, NGO's etc.

The Planning and Development Forum (IDP Alignment Committee) is a mechanism that is established with the purpose of addressing specific issues of interest that need to be aligned between the district and local municipalities. The Alignment Committee meetings are different from the IDP_LED Technical Committee meetings. The intension is that the alignment meetings focus on specific challenges and opportunities that exist between the district and local municipalities.

The Public Engagements is a process where communities are being provided an opportunity to discuss developmental issues as required by Chapter 4, Section 16 & 17 of the Municipal Systems Act (No 32 of 2000), which stipulates that municipalities are required to develop a culture of public participation and consult their respective communities on developmental issues.

As the communities will be adequately involved during the preparation of the IDP as per the above structures, the municipality will inform the community about public engagements through radio, newspaper adverts, place notices at public institutions and also via a word of mouth through Councillors, Ward Committees, Community Development Workers etc.

The municipality will also develop an easy to read IDP / Budget booklet which will contain a summary of both documents to distribute to the community within the district to enhance the provision of comments and inputs on the documents. The district will also place both the Draft and Final IDP on the website for public viewing.
